Backing Track List

2. A small percentage of our backing tracks are MIDI files and as such are not always accurate representations of the original songs. We are gradually phasing out these files as the audio files become available.
3. In most cases the backing track is recorded in the same key as the original.
4. We cannot guarantee the chosen backing track is exactly the same as the "original" as in many cases the artist may have recorded more than one version
